Wisconsin Birth to 3 Early Intervention Program

Linda Tuchman-Ginsberg, PhD
Program Director for Early Childhood Professional Development, Waisman Center, UW-Madison

Learning Objectives

• Understand the purpose of the Wisconsin Birth to 3 Program
• Learn how eligibility and intervention are determined
• Know how to make a referral to a Birth to 3 Program

Purpose of Birth to 3

• Provide resources, supports and services to meet the developmental needs of infants and toddlers who have delayed development or have a physical or mental condition which is likely to result in delayed development
• Address family needs related to their child’s development

... Learning and development occurs more rapidly in young children when they are engaged in activities of interest to them, thus creating opportunities for them to practice existing skills, explore the environment and learn new skills.

Program Facts

• County-based program in Wisconsin
• Under WI Department of Health Services

I figured he was just being his curious-two-year-old-self when he kept taking his head band off and smiling at me. Then the therapists said he was working on his fine motor and cognitive skills.

• Consent for exchange of information is required
  o Often originated by the Birth to 3 Program o Could also come from physician’s office

Approaches to Practice in Birth to 3

• Services in natural environments o Home
  o Preschool / child care
  o Other community settings with typically developing children

• Child development and family outcomes

• Family partnerships and support

Family Partnerships

• Support to families in embedding practice into daily routines and activities

• Increasing a family’s skills and knowledge during and after Birth to 3

• It is about what happens when professionals aren’t present

“The outcome we seek . . . is to support parents’ capacity to ‘captain their own ship’ and not become dependent on professionals for all decision making.”
Kristine Ovland Pilkington, OT

Evidence for Birth to 3 Practices

• Research tells us more therapy isn’t better. It is how we practice that makes a difference.

• Development is integrated across domains

• Critical windows of child development

• Context matters
  o Natural learning opportunities
  o Teachable moments
  o Parent/caregiver and child relationships Contextually mediated skill development which is functional and social-adaptive permits young children greater opportunities to be involved in family and community activities.
