FALL 2002 SEMINAR SERIES

ALL SEMINARS ON FRIDAYS FROM NOON - 1:30 P.M.
CONFERENCE CENTER - 2ND FLOOR, NORTH TOWER (T216)

September 27
Mark Lewis, University of Florida (Psychiatry, Neuroscience, Psychology)
Abnormal Repetition: Bio-Behavioral Effects of Genes and Experience

October 4
Lauren Adamson, Georgia State University (Psychology)
The Development of Joint Attention in Very Young Children with Autism

October 11
Gordon Mitchell, UW-Madison (Comparative Biosciences)
Spinal, Serotonin-Dependent Respiratory Plasticity: Putative Role of BDNF

October 18
Elisabeth Dykens, UCLA (Psychiatry & Biobehavioral Sciences)
Jigsaw Puzzles and Music: Unusual Twists in the Behavioral Phenotypes of Prader-Willi and Williams Syndrome

November 1
Kevin Staley, University of Colorado (Pediatrics and Neurology)
How Do Seizures Start and Stop

November 8
Connie Kasari, UCLA (Education)
Randomized Treatment Studies on Core Deficits in Young Children With Autism

November 15
Susan M. Smith, UW-Madison (Nutritional Sciences)
New Findings on How Alcohol Damages the Fetus

November 22
Norman Fost, UW-Madison (Ethics, Pediatrics)
What Ever Happened to Baby Doe: The Transformation from Undertreatment to Overtreatment of Infants with Handicaps

EVERYONE WELCOME
FFI: 263-5837; palumbo@waisman.wisc.edu