A Panel Discussion with
Former Surgeon General
David Satcher, M.D., Ph.D.

“Preparing the Next Generation of Health Care Providers to Address Health Disparities in Developmental Disabilities”

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 2002
4:30 P.M. – 5:30 P.M.
WAISMAN CENTER, 1500 HIGHLAND AVENUE
AUDITORIUM -(S107)

Welcome: Marsha M. Seltzer, Ph.D., Director, Waisman Center

Other panel participants:
Philip Farrell, M.D., Dean, UW Medical School
William Schwab, M.D., Professor of Family Medicine
Maureen Durkin, Ph.D., Professor of Population Health & Waisman Center Investigator

About the Panel Discussion . . .

During his tenure as Surgeon General, David Satcher worked to bring national attention and resources to eliminate health disparities. Health disparities are defined as differences in the incidence, prevalence, mortality, and burden of diseases and other adverse health conditions that exist among specific population groups in the United States. (National Institutes of Health Working Group on Health Disparities)

In this panel discussion, Dr. Satcher and others will discuss disparities that exist among individuals with developmental disabilities across the lifespan, and steps that can be taken to prepare the next generation of health care providers to address those disparities.

RSVP if you plan to attend: Julie Schears at schears@waisman.wisc.edu, or 265-2063